ABSTRACT

A pharmaceutical composition comprising a salt, preferably a crystalline salt, of an organic acid of low water solubility and a compound of formula (I) is provided. The salts are useful in treating Parkinson's disease. Also provided are methods of treatment using the salts and methods of making crystalline forms of the salts.